

HAZARDOUS & SPECIALIST WASTE

If your business produces Hazardous or Specialist Waste you have a Duty of Care to ensure it is stored, transported and treated in a compliant manner and in line with all Environmental and Government legislation.

This is because these waste types contain hazardous properties that may make it harmful to human health and the environment if not controlled correctly.

Waste Experts use our knowledge and experience to guide you on the best and safest methods for handling your hazardous waste, helping to avoid issues such as cross-contamination and work towards reducing your overall waste costs.

Our Hazardous and Specialist Waste management services include:

Full compliance with The Hazardous Waste Regulations 2005 (England and Wales) or The Special Waste Regulations 1996 (Scotland)

Waste transfer, treatment and recovery centres positioned in strategic locations across the UK

Supply of a variety of hazardous waste containers to enable safe storage and transportation of hazardous materials

Waste packaging, labelling and transportation in accordance with ADR Regulations

On site surveys, sampling and testing services carried out by our qualified chemists

Complimentary customer portal for online access to all your Duty of Care and compliance documentation

Accreditation to ISO 27001, 9001, 14001 & 45001 standards

Increasing your environmental credentials through recycling and recovery of all materials to the highest standards

Our Hazardous and Specialist Waste management services include:

- Paints and solvents
- Chemicals
- Automotive wastes
- Pesticides
- Mercury-containing wastes
- Waste electrical and electronic equipment (WEEE)
- Aerosols / Propane cylinders
- Caustics / Cleaning agents
- Refrigerant-containing appliances
- Batteries
- Lamps
- Ammunition
- Asbestos
- Radioactive wastes
- Hazardous waste containers
- Toner cartridges
- Tyres
- Fire Extinguishers
- Sludge

Whether you're a small company or a multi-site operation disposing of hazardous waste can present a real challenge.

Waste Experts provide a bespoke service that's tailored to your exact needs and guarantee all your waste will be managed in a consistent manner, no matter where you are in the UK.

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT: